

TABLE 4

Changes in prevalence (% of child population) of childhood overweight across the last three decades. The data are taken from surveys of comparable populations of children, using the same definition of overweight within each country (all countries shown here used the IOTF criteria, except for France, Poland and Czech Republic which used locally-defined criteria).

